INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Member of
KR Securities, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of KR Securities, LLC (the "Company") as of December 31, 2008, and the related statements of operations, changes in member's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of KR Securities, LLC as of December 31, 2008 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information included on page 10 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Note 1 - Summary of significant accounting policies

Organization

KR Securities, LLC (the "Company") is a single-member Delaware limited liability company. The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Krieger, Ruderman & Co., LLC (the "Parent" or "Member").

The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a broker-dealer and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.

The Company does not carry customers' accounts and does not receive, deliver or hold cash or securities in connection with such transactions. The Company has a clearing agreement with JP Morgan Clearing Corp ("JP Morgan") formerly known as Bear Stearns Securities Corporation whereby JP Morgan clears transactions for the Company's customers and carries the accounts of such customers on a fully disclosed basis as customers of JP Morgan. Accordingly, customer open transactions are not reflected on the accompanying statement of financial condition. The Company is exposed to credit losses on these open transactions in the event of nonperformance by its customers. This exposure is reduced by the Company's policy of obtaining and maintaining adequate collateral until open transactions are completed.

Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Securities transactions

Transactions in securities are recorded on the trade date. Securities owned and securities sold, but not yet purchased are recorded at market value on a trade-date basis. Securities sold, but not yet purchased are subject to market fluctuations which may require purchasing the securities at prices which may differ from the market value reflected on the statement of financial condition.

Commissions

Commission revenues and related expenses from customer transactions are recorded on the trade date. When acting as broker or dealer, the Company will be entitled to receive brokerage commissions, mark-ups or mark-downs.

Note 1 - Summary of significant accounting policies (cont'd)

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash and short-term money market instruments with original maturity dates of three months or less.

Income taxes

The Company is a single-member limited liability company. The taxable income or loss of the Company is allocated to and included in the tax returns of the individual members of the Parent. The Company may be subject to state and local taxes in certain jurisdictions in which they operate.

Note 2 - Related party transaction

The expenses associated with management of the Company and certain other administrative expenses are allocated by the Parent to the Company pursuant to an expense allocation agreement. Accordingly, the results of operations are not necessarily indicative of those results had the Company been a stand-alone entity. For the year ended December 31, 2008, the Company was allocated administrative expenses of $390,000 from the Parent.

Note 3 - Net capital requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Uniform Net Capital Rule (SEC rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to minimum net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1 (and the rule of the "applicable" exchange also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn or cash dividends paid if the resulting net capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1). At December 31, 2008, the Company had net capital of $109,740, which was $104,740 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000.

Proprietary accounts held at the clearing broker ("PAIB Assets") are considered allowable assets in the computation of net capital pursuant to an agreement between the Company and the clearing broker, which requires, among other things, for the clearing broker to perform a computation of PAIB Assets similar to the customer reserve computation set forth in SEC rule 15c3-3.

Note 4 - Profit sharing plan

The Company has a nonqualified employee profit sharing plan, which provides for contributions at the discretion of management. Employees become vested over a six-year period. The Company did not make any contributions for the year ended December 31, 2008.

The Board of Directors
KR Securities, LLC
600 Pretty Brook Road
Princeton, New Jersey 08540

Gentlemen:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of KR Securities, LLC ("the Company"), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2008, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregated debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examination, counts verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17(a)-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that result in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange

KR Securities, LLC

Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2008, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management of KR Securities, LLC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., the Securities and Exchange Commission, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Very truly yours,
